Death of Miss Davidson.

A dispatch from Mannington to the Intelligencer last evening, conveys the sad intelligence of the death of Miss Maggie Davidson, at that place, of typhoid fever, after an illness of two weeks. She was a trained nurse, having graduated from the Wheeling Hospital, and was well known in this city. She contracted the disease while pursuing her calling. Her remains will be taken to East Springfield, near Steubenville, Ohio, for interment.

Mogullian Bungle.

To-day occurs the first grand gathering of LaBelle Conclave No. 24, at Mozart park. The committee will dispense with the services of the Thirteenth Regiment band, which took part in the Regiment parade last evening, and Mayer's orchestra will make the music. Dancing commencing at 2 o'clock, continuing until midnight, except for the intermission, when the Bungle takes place. A mistaken impression exists among some that an extra charge would be asked to see the Bungle. This is incorrect.

An Old Man Lost.

Mr. Peter Miller, of No. 105 Eleventh street, informed the police yesterday that his father, Adam Miller, aged eighty-five years, had strayed away from his home and could not be found. He had come in from the country to visit his son and had left his house early in the morning and had not been seen since. A description of the old gentleman was furnished, but nothing could be seen of him until about 11 o'clock last night when he was found wandering around out by the Baltimore & Ohio tunnel. He was bewildered and didn't know which way to turn. He was brought into town and taken to his son's home.

Good Minstrels.

The Grand Opera House was well filled last night by an audience that thoroughly enjoyed the elegant performance given by Barlow Brothers' Minstrels. The company has made a tremendous hit during its stay here and M. A. Mosley, who is giving the tour his direct attention, may rest assured that whenever his name is connected with an entertainment that takes place hereafter crowded houses will greet him.

The first part is magnificent throughout and the olio is in perfect keeping with it. A matinee will be given this afternoon and the engagement will close to-night. Seats at the box office.

To Cleanse the System

Effectually yet gently, when costive or bilious, or when the blood is impure or sluggish, to permanently overcome habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, to dispel headaches, colds, or fevers, use Syrup of Figs.

AMONG THE CRANKS

And People With Schemes That Are Worth Money,

AT NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS.

National Committeeman Scott gives an interesting account of persons who visit the Rooms of the Republican National Committee in New York, with songs, button designs and campaign emblems, which they offer for a consideration—Republican Prospects Growing Brighter Every Day—Inspiring Scenes at Bourke Cockran's Madison Square Garden Meeting.

A reporter for the Intelligencer met National Committeeman N. B. Scott, who is home for a brief respite from his labors at the headquarters of the Republican national executive committee in New York. The senator looks like the work agreed with him. He chatted with the reporter about his work and related some very humorous experiences. The serious part of his share of the work is directing the workings of the labor bureau, and looking after organized labor. His field covers the southern states with the exception of Kentucky and one or two others.

"How does the situation in the south look, senator?" asked the reporter.

"Quite encouraging. Good work is being done in that section, and my honest opinion is that the sound money sentiment is stronger in the southern states than in a great many in the north."

"How about the rest of the country?"

"Entirely satisfactory from our standpoint. New York is absolutely safe for McKinley and Hobart, and every day the cause of sound money and the prospects for Republican success grow brighter."

"Senator, some of the papers state that among your other duties you entertain all the cranks and people with campaign schemes. How about that?"

"Well," answered Mr. Scott, laughing, "that, in a measure is true. You have no idea of the sort of people that suddenly spring up in campaign times. Men with songs that are sure to make a hit, with button designs, cards and campaign emblems, and others who can throw a certain number of votes—always for a consideration. I have met thousands of them, and they are queer mortals. The other day a fellow came into my room with a song he insisted on my hearing him sing—just one verse, he pleaded. I told him that I was not the song editor. He, however, broke out, and before I knew it he had warbled through a verse of it. I thought it was all, but he arranged the chorus, which he said was particularly fine."

"Well, how was it?"

"Atrocious. But I thought I would make some others around the headquarters suffer what I had borne, so I took the fellow over to Mr. Barrett Hobart's room, the candidate for vice president."

"I said to him, 'Mr. Hobart, here is a gentleman whom I told you had just two minutes time to spare him.' He entered the room as I left."

"What happened?"

"I don't know, except that I heard him singing. Mr. Hobart came to me afterwards, however, and said, more in sorrow than in anger, 'Scott, what in the world did I ever do to you, that you should have thrust such an affliction on me?'"

WE ARE AT THE LAST DITCH!

With one masterly effort we're going to clear it—landing on the safe side of present conditions. There's just this one week remaining between us and inventory time, and where the lots are still too large—whether it be complete lots or broken lots—shan't matter—they must go. This is the most determined sacrifice of the season—a wholesale, indiscriminate slaughter—that shatters present prices to splinters. The wise ones will husband their resources and take quick advantage of this climax.

We Doff Our Hats

To you delegates and visitors of the Bavarian Convention. We're all glad to see you. Wheeling has thrown her doors wide open. Pitch right in and make yourselves at home. It'll be your own fault if you don't have a good time. We've got a store that is the largest men's outfitting establishment in the state. Do us the favor of dropping in if there is any service we can render. Don't hesitate to ask if you should happen to run short and need our professional assistance. You'll get a taste of Wheeling's values and prices that will be a pleasant reminder of your visit to West Virginia's metropolis.
